THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 23, 1866.

From the "National Intelligencer."

Representation Upon Equality of Numbers.

The great argument in favor of the constitutional amendment is, that unless it is adopted the Southern people will have an undue share of political power.

This argument assumes that our form of Government is the expression of numbers only, than which nothing can be more erroneous, as will be obvious from the slightest consideration.

To begin: The President is not elected merely by numbers. Each State has as many electoral votes, in the first place, as she has Representatives, and to this number are added two more for the Senators.

Now, New York has thirty-one Representatives; Rhode Island has two. In the Presidential election, if population were the only element, New York would have thirty-one votes to Rhode Island's two. But, in reality, New York has only thirty-three votes to Rhode Island's four.

In the Senate numbers are not regarded at all. Rhode Island has two Senators, the same number that New York has. So that a man in Rhode Island is equal to fifteen men of New York in the Senate. And it is a curious fact that the very men who are clamorous about a man in Louisiana counting as two men in New York, proposed to admit Colorado as a State, whose population does not entitle her to half a Representative. A man, then, in Colorado would have a voice in the House of Representatives equal to sixty men in New York.

In the Senate a majority of the States, representing a population of about a fourth of the whole, may have everything their own way; and this part of our system of government cannot in strict law be altered by any amendment of the Constitution, without the unanimous consent of every State. It would seem by this that our ancestors wished to render a government of mere numbers impossible. The Senate, too, it must be remembered, has, in addition to every function the House has, (except the originating of money bills,) several of the most important character which the House does not have, as to the treaty-making power, the appointment to office, and also acts as a court in impeachments.

So, in amending the Constitution, the most important act that the States can perform under our system of government, the assent of three-fourths of the States is necessary. In this great sovereign act no regard is had to population.—Rhode Island has the same voice as New York has; and it is possible that three-fourths of the States may have a population less than one-half of the whole population of the United States, and thus the great prerogative of amending the Constitution may be exercised by less than a majority of the people of the United States. A large majority of the people of the United States may be in favor of amending the Constitution, but be unable to accomplish it if they do not command three-fourths of all the States.

Nothing was further from the intention of the founders of our Government than to rest it on mere numbers. With them nothing was more absolutely at war with the genius of our Government than the divinity of numbers.—They made our Government constitutional, not numerical. The great men who framed it did not wish to establish a democracy pure and simple; for all history, all philosophy had taught them that of all forms of government that was the most stupid and the most execrable.

And yet the great argument in favor of the constitutional amendment is, that a man in Louisiana, unless something is done, will have as much power as two men in New York. The next time this cry is raised, let it be added, if Colorado is admitted, a half a man there will have as much power in the Government as thirty-one men in New York.

Yet it may be remarked, in concluding, that if innovations are to prevail, it can hardly be expected that the great inequality of Senatorial representation shall not be reached and overthrown in some manner.

A KNOWING ELEPHANT.—There is an anecdote told of an elephant in the Jardin des Plantes in Paris, which amusingly illustrates the exquisite sense of smell with which elephants are endowed. The interior of an elephant's trunk is lined with an immense olfactory nerve, by which the animal is able to detect the faintest order at a distance. He finds that the orange flower yields the most delicious of all perfumes, and travelers state that in Japan elephants may frequently be seen burying their trunks in the foliage of orange trees to enjoy the fragrance. The other day the large elephant in the Jardin des Plantes suddenly ceased picking up the bread and cakes offered to him by the visitors of the garden, drew in his trunk, and continued to follow along the railings of his enclosure a lady who was carrying in her hand a boquet of orange flowers. The lady's attention was called to his movements, and she at once held the boquet within his reach. The animal seized the flowers, inhaled the perfume with great delight for several moments, and—here comes the least credible portion of the story—again put forth its trunk and restored the boquet to the lady. One understands an elephant's passion for sweet smells, but hardly comprehends his manifestation of gallantry and good breeding.

In reply to Forney's menace against the Governor of Maryland, the Washington Constitutional Union says: "Let Forney's army of traitors come on; they will be met as they deserve. The announcement of the President was not an idle one, that treason having been put down in the South, he was ready for it at the North."

A lady committed suicide in Newark, New Jersey, lately. She left a note saying she could tolerate her husband no longer. He was the third to whom she had been married.

Two voters in Evansville, Indiana, who were isolated by an inundation, waded to the polls through water which, in one place, was up to their arm-pits.

A gentleman hiring a servant in New York, after patiently enduring the usual catechism propounded by "help," when asked, "And have you many children?" replied—"Yes, I have five, but I can drown two or three if you insist upon it."

In the class of civil engineers of Paris two young Americans stand first and third out of one hundred and thirteen students.

W. L. ALEXANDER, QUITMAN, TEXAS,

Attorney-at Law, and Real Estate Agent.

For the Purchase and Sale of improved and unimproved Real Estate—perfecting Titles—payment of Taxes, and furnishing such information as may be obtained from Public Records or other sources.

Having traveled extensively in Texas during the last five years, and by close observation having become thoroughly acquainted with the intrinsic value of Lands in Eastern and Middle Texas, I with confidence offer my services to the Public, feeling sure of giving satisfaction.

Now is the most propitious time for those desirous of securing homes in Texas. The best Lands can be bought at astonishingly low rates. We offer improved, and unimproved Lands, situated in the timbered or prairie country. Don't delay till the price of Lands becomes high,—and until the farseeing and enterprising have secured all the best, as regards fertility, convenience to market, abundance of good water and healthful locality.

My fees are moderate, and in proportion to the work required of me.

EXCHANGE OF N. C. BONDS FOR STOCKS.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, September 27th. 1866.

The Public are reminded that, in pursuance of an Ordinance of the late Convention, sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, until 12 M., on the first day of November next, for the exchange of the principal of bonds issued by the State before the 20th. May 1861, for the Stocks held by the State in the various Rail Roads and other Companies, of which the following are the principal:

North Carolina R. R. Co.	$3,000,000,
Raleigh & Gaston R. R. Co.	682,500,
Atlantic & N. C. R. R.	1,066,000,
Western N. C. R. R. Co.	1,418,000,
Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Co.	350,000;

No bid less than par will be entertained. Any premiums offered may be applied to payment of the Interest due on the bonds offered in exchange. Bids will be opened in the presence of the Governor and Comptroller, and those will be accepted most advantageous to the State.

Purchasers of preferred stock will not obtain rights greater than holders of stocks not preferred.

In consequence of the bonds and liens, held by the State on various Rail Road Companies, having been in part executed during the late war, I have concluded not to offer them for exchange until the reception of special instructions from the General Assembly.

I have deferred the time of opening bids in order that parties interested might have opportunity of examining the reports of the various Companies for the present year, which no doubt can be obtained from the proper officers of the Companies.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

MRS. RANSOM'S SEMINARY,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THE buildings being completed and my teachers having arrived, I have opened my Seminary for Girls and Young Ladies near the corner of Third and Orange streets, Wilmington, N. C.

Everything will be taught which can be desired in the thorough education of a lady.

It will be to the advantage of all, that the pupils be entered as early as possible.

Owing to the scarcity of money, my tuition in the English studies will be seventy-five dollars, and in the Primary Department fifty dollars per year.

For further particulars apply to the Principal.

Education of the Blacks.

We have been surprised at the recent misrepresentations of the Northern Radical press, as to the feeling of the Southern people in regard to the education of the blacks. It is now being represented at the North that the Southern whites are opposed to education among the blacks, that negro schools are frequently broken up by the whites, and that but few colored schools are in progress. The whole statement is without foundation.

A colored Convention, composed of blacks from many of the Counties of the State, has recently been held here for the avowed purpose of organizing a regular Educational Association for their special benefit. So far from this exciting any hostility, the Convention was visited by the Governor of the State and other gentlemen, who addressed them in strong words of encouragement and sympathy. Not a press in the State, or any person that we are aware of, has said aught of any educational scheme among them, that was not favorable and encouraging. The political aims and designs of some connected with the Convention have been disapproved, and every friend of education among them has been advised to ignore politics entirely, because of the damage it would do their educational schemes, and on account of its mischievous tendency.

Immediately upon the close of the war, the South was filled with Northern school teachers, who were unknown, and unappreciated because unknown, and because of their almost universal disposition to mingle, upon terms of social equality, with the blacks,—to visit them as equals, to eat and drink with them as equals,—the "school marms" kissing and fondling their pupils, &c., and indicating, by their manners and preferences, that they came from those classes at the North who enjoyed no better social position at home than our colored people. Moreover, their conversations and teachings among the blacks, were known to be intensely hostile to the peace and harmony of the races. The course of the Southern people towards such persons, as might have been expected, was to "let them alone," and, as we say in the South, to "treat people according to their color," i. e., according to their position. What has been the effect of their course and the conduct of the Southern people towards them we are not fully prepared to say. One thing is certain, that our people have rigidly and severely "let them alone." They have come or gone as they pleased, and they have had unlimited license to eat and drink or sleep with the colored people to their hearts' content. Whether our respectable colored people have snubbed them, or given them the cold shoulder, we know not, but we have reason to believe they are "thinning out," and the number of "school marms" and "male teachers," that come on the professed philanthopic mission of teaching the blacks, "is growing smaller by degrees and beautifully less."

The effect of this is decidedly beneficial. All over the State, indeed, it is becoming quite general that colored schools are springing up, taught by respectable colored persons. These schools, we think, are monopolizing the colored pupils, and are increasing and thriving rapidly. The Southern whites, so far from interfering with these schools, are encouraging them. In this city, we judge there are at least twice as many colored children going to school as whites.—Moreover, a number of grown negro females and males are attending these schools and their progress is said to be good. It is so in every town of any size in the State, in our villages and country neighborhoods. In some cases, perhaps, where possession was forcibly taken of private property for the use of colored schools, the tenements have been given up for other uses, but no where in the State have we heard of an instance of any colored school being interfered with by white persons, where they have been conducted with propriety.

We are therefore led to the conclusion, that those statements, which represent the Southern people as opposed to education among the blacks, are manufactured out of the whole cloth, by those Northern equality propagandists who have come South, but whose craft has been monopolized by the intelligent Southern colored people who are opening schools for the blacks in every direction. We hope our intelligent colored people will go ahead in that work. The confidence of the Southern people is tenfold greater in our respectable, intelligent, well-behaved colored people, than in most of those white persons, who come from abroad, with sugar on their lips to the colored people, but with wrath in their hearts against the whites. It has moreover been intimated to us by colored people, that the schools conducted by respectable colored persons have proved to be far cheaper to them, than the professed "charity schools," represented as originating in the benevolence of those who profess so much concern for the "poor negro." Whether this be true or false, we are not prepared to say.

What the Southern people are most concerned about, is this: Will our colored people rely upon labor; steady, systematic labor, in tilling the soil, as the great end to their own improvement and elevation and the general prosperity of the South? Can they be relied upon to aid us in the recuperation and prosperity of the country? If the colored people will answer these questions affirmatively, we will underwrite for the Southern whites, that they will not only not interfere with the agencies employed for their improvement and elevation, but the negro race may certainly expect the hearty co-operation of the whites in all laudable and plausible plans to effect that object.

We have not received the Wilmington Journal for four or five days. Why is this? We greatly miss the face of our valuable cotemporary.

The Great Concern.

The public feeling in the South is becoming more and more intense every day, upon the subject of private and public indebtedness, and the difficulties of providing for the future wants of families. This after all is the great concern of the Southern people. Nothing is so much thought of or spoken of, as "how shall I support my family, provide against future want and pay my taxes?"

To answer these questions to the satisfaction of every man, is an impossibility. Would that we could say something to relieve the general anxiety and point out some plan by which this crushing weight upon our people could be removed! Never was there a time when the creditor had greater reason to be magnanimous or forbearing for his own good, than at present; and never was there a time when, for his own good, the debtor should be more industrious, more frugal and more honest than at present.

The burden, doubtless, is a great one, but do we not magnify our difficulties? Our people are in debt, and many creditors are pressing and unfeeling, but after all is the state of things as bad and as hopeless, as many represent it?—Have the debtor class done their duty? Have they represented their condition truly to their creditors and sought a compromise with them? Have they been really anxious to meet the creditor half way? Have they been willing to do what they can, towards satisfying the creditor? Let this remedy be first tried.

The scarcity of money is beyond question.—The present crop will not relieve that scarcity long, after the Federal and State and County and City taxes are paid and the absolute wants of families are attended to. Amid such scarcity, it is a hard fate to have the little left us entirely sacrificed under the Sheriff's hammer? But may not this be prevented?

We believe the best solution to our difficulties will be found in three words: Work, frugality, honesty. We must all go to work. Hard work is not pleasant, but it must be done, if we would succeed. The cultivation of the soil is our chief reliance. There is danger in shunning it to engage in lighter but less certain vocations. We must be frugal. How much that is wasted—spent upon mere trifles, might be saved.—Retrenchment we must learn till we get out of the woods. Save the dimes and let us learn to curb our wants in order to a quiet conscience. Be honest. After all, character and credit are mines of wealth. Do right, whatever may befall us. This will make an honest little more precious than much gold. "But I am hopelessly in debt," says one. Then when people are sure of it, they will cease to perplex you, when you have nothing to pay. There is no disgrace in honest, frugal, working poverty. If you are able to be in debt, then you are able to owe, but never say you will not pay an honest debt.

Wendell Phillips delivered a violent harangue in Boston on the 8th. He favored the prompt impeachment of President Johnson, and said that "U. S. Grant occupied the most humiliating position of any man on the continent." Phillips generally leads the way, and his party after a while come up to his standard. Bearing this in mind, the following paragraph from his speech is full of significance:

"He wanted Congress to commence its next session as a perpetuation. Every moment that it was not in session the South was ruling the government; and he would have the next Congress enact that they should re-assemble in March, 1867, and be themselves the government."

Washington County.—The following was the poll in this county, viz: Senate,—J. E. Moore, Conservative, 192; J. A. Melson, Rad., 110. Commons,—Chas. Latham, Cons., 225; E. W. Jones, Rad., 192.

The result in this county is most gratifying. A friend, writing us from Plymouth, says: "We carried the county after a hard contest with the Radical party, favoring the Howard amendment."

Wilson County.—The Carolinian says that owing to the failure of the Sheriff of Edgecombe to designate inspectors for opening the polls for the Legislature, no election whatever was held for members of that body in Wilson. The counties of Edgecombe and Wilson vote together for members, so that Edgecombe has had everything its own way. We are not aware, however, that there was any serious opposition to the members elect.

The Banner County.—Northampton is, so far, the Banner County. Gen. Dockery did not receive a single vote in the county, while Gov. Worth obtained nearly 500. Well done, Northampton!

Johnston and Randolph, so far as we have heard, are the only counties that have given Radical majorities. We have not learned who are elected to the Legislature from the former county.

In Richmond, on Friday, three cases of cholera occurred near the head of Marshall street among patients who were almost entirely destitute of even the necessaries of life. Two of the family, the father and mother, died, and the remaining one, a little son, is not expected to live.

Colored Jurymen.—The Boston Commonwealth states that at present there are four colored jurymen serving in the various courts of that city—one in the superior court for criminal business, one in the first session of the superior court, for civil business; and two in the second session.

It is a strange coincidence that seven of the passengers of the ill-fated steamer Evening Star were rescued by the schooner Morning Star, and carried into Charleston. The setting Star found another rising one to take its place.

The Bishop elect of Louisiana is to be consecrated in Christ's Church on the 7th of November. Bishops Hopkins, Wilmer, Green, Elliott and Quintard are to be present.

The remains of Francis S. Key, author of our national song, "The Star Spangled Banner," have been removed from Baltimore to Mt. Olivet Cemetery, at Frederick, at the instance of Mrs. Pendleton, wife of Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton, of Cincinnati.

The mills in Connecticut are now busy making molasses from the Connecticut sorghum crop. It is an excellent quality.

The Dead of the Past,—Interesting Memorials.

We continue our sketches, and, as we progress, the sad but pleasing work accumulates. The good old people of the good old times!—"We ne'er shall look upon their like again."—As time grows older we greatly fear that people grow no better, or else the distance of years lends a charm to character which we fail to recognize in contemporaneous society.

"In memory of Peter Browne, Counsellor at Law, a native of Knockandoch, in the shire of Aberdeen, North Britain, and for more than 40 years a citizen and resident in the State of North Carolina. He was eminently distinguished for vigor of intellect, soundness of judgment and integrity of character. He departed this life at Raleigh, on the 26th. day of October, 1833, aged 67 years. This monument is erected by his affectionate nephew, Robert Simpson, of North Britain."

When Peter Browne came to America, he was destitute of both friends and fortune, but such were the endowments of his mind, and the method which characterized all his arrangements, that he rose speedily to eminence in the legal profession and accumulated great wealth. He was for years President of the State Bank, and managed the affairs of the institution with consummate financial skill. He left no relations in the United States to inherit his large fortune.

"In memory of Sherwood Haywood, who was born on the 17th. of February 1762, and died October 5th. 1829."

Mr. Haywood was, at the time of his death, Agent of the Bank of Newbern in this City, and was a man of the most rigid probity of character. The testimony of his contemporaries who survive him,—but few in number and they well silvered o'er with the frosts of age,—fully sustains the following eulogy upon his worth, which appeared in the "Raleigh Register" a few days after his decease: "Years will pass away ere we see united in one man so many virtues, so much urbanity and kindness, such unsophisticated manners and such sterling integrity."

Mrs. Haywood, who survived him many years, attained a ripe old age, and was the object of affectionate veneration with a large family.—The family residence was immediately north of the Episcopal Church. Among the children are Mrs. Badger, and Gen. R. W. and Dr. R. B. Haywood, of this City.

"In memory of Matthew Shaw, aged 75 years, a native of Scotland."

The subject of this notice was long a merchant in this City and carried on business about where the market-house now stands. His residence, immediately South of the old Baptist grove, is known as the "Shaw House" to this day. He is represented to have been a bundle of peculiarities, even to his gait, but he was possessed of all the best traits of the Scotch character. That is saying a great deal, when the proverbial thriftiness, the scrupulous honesty, the keen intelligence and the strait morality of the better classes of that nationality are considered.

He was brought to this country originally by his uncle, William Shaw, who, from the most humble beginning, attained influence and position in the community and accumulated considerable estate; as, indeed, did Matthew, also. He (William) commenced business in Raleigh by opening a small cake-shop near where Guion's old Hotel now stands. It was a famous place of resort for the boys and girls of that generation, en route to and from the Raleigh Academy, where Dr. McPheeters taught the young and wielded the birch so successfully.

From so obscure and petty a beginning, the Shaws rose to wealth and usefulness,—being generally esteemed among the best and worthiest members of society; and Raleigh could boast a society, at that day, (without designing any derogation of the present) which was pure, elevated and cordial,—which took honest merit by the hand, and which welcomed and honored humble worth full as much as aristocratic lineage.

On one occasion, Matthew was complaining to his uncle William of the onerous taxes. He protested that he had not been so heavily taxed under the monarchy, from which they had emigrated. "Vera true, mon," said William; "ye had naething to pay taxes on in the ither country!" The anecdote exhibits what they had been and what they became, and presents an example for the emulation of the rising generation, as illustrating what uprightness, frugality and energy can accomplish. But if they complained of "taxes" under the old beneficent economy of State and national governments, what would they have thought in the present day of land taxes, direct taxes, internal revenue tax, et id omne?

Matthew Shaw, Esq., of Washington, is one of the surviving children of the excellent old Caledonian merchant.

"To the memory of Gen. Beverly Daniel, who died Sept. 13, 1840, in the 63rd year of his age."

At the time of his death, Gen. Daniel was Adjutant General of the State,—an office for which he was peculiarly fitted by his military taste, with, perhaps, some experience in the war of 1812. He had also been Marshal of the State for about thirty-two years, but was removed in March, 1840, by Mr. Van Buren,—Gen. Daniel, in the excited campaign of that year, being an active supporter of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." This proscription of a meritorious officer, who was likewise, in his individual capacity, a great favorite in the community, aroused much indignation. A public dinner was tendered to the General and accepted. It came off on the 9th day of May following his removal, and was one of the largest demonstrations of the kind ever seen in the city. Those venerable patriarchs, Joseph Gales and John Devereux, Sr., presided as joint Presidents, and speeches were made by Mr. Badger, Gov. Iredell and other distinguished gentlemen. Among the other sentiments drank on the occasion was the following, offered by Mr. Badger, which illustrates at once the long public service of the guest and the extent to which party spirit ran in those times:

"Our Guest, General Daniel: As an officer good enough for Jefferson,—good enough for Madison,—good enough for Monroe,—good enough for Adams,—good enough for Jackson: It is no wonder that Van Buren thinks he is too good for him!"

Gen. Daniel was passionately fond of the sports of the field and was a crack shot. Our fellow-townsmen, Dr. Hill and Eldridge Smith, can relate many incidents of his venatic prowess, we will warrant. Many can remember well that his bachelor room, which, before it was burned down, stood near where Lynn Adams' store now is, was always hung around with some of the trophies of the chase,—deer's antlers, &c.,—while his brace of guns rested in the corner, and his dogs were lounging about the doors.

He was a high-toned, honorable, chivalrous gentleman, and his old associates remember him with pleasure and with a sigh. There was much of the Chevalier Bayard in Gen. Beverly Daniel's composition.

(Cor. Richmond Examiner.)

The Baltimore Police Commissioners and Governor Swann—President Johnson and the Radicals.

Washington, October 21.

Baltimore is now the centre of Radicals aspirations. The Radical are determined to take the initiative in the conflict with the President. They have prepared for an insurrection against the constituted State authorities of Maryland at the coming election of members of Congress in that State. Every Radical State will furnish aid for the proposed revolt in Baltimore against the orders of Governor Swann, if he should attempt to remove the police commissioners.

This seems to be a point upon which the Radicals may find it most convenient to adopt as an initial.

The case is this: Baltimore, if the police commissioners enforce the registry law, as they did at the municipal election, will elect two Radicals as representatives to Congress. The entire Radical party will fight for the Radical cause in Maryland. That State it is quite necessary for them to keep.

Governor Swann now takes a Conservative course. He supports the President's policy. He may, as is said, aim at the United States Senatorship. He has cited the Police Commissioners to appear, and to meet the charges against them of having enforced such an application of the Registry law as illegally deprived many citizens of their rights as voters.

In Maryland two-thirds, or at least one-half, of the citizens entitled to suffrage are excluded. In Baltimore the proportion of those excluded is greater. The Baltimore people are competent to manage their own affairs. External interference from the North and West, which is threatened by the Radicals, will be resented.—The people, whatever may be their politics will hardly allow of that.

Governor Swann can turn the election in favor of the Conservatives in Balt more and in the State by removing the Police Commissioners.—This act will be resisted by force. An insurrection will thus occur, which the President, if called upon by the Governor of the State for aid, cannot refuse to put down. The United States military force will thus be brought into conflict with the Radical mob. Who knows, who can tell the issue. It will perhaps, be the opening scene of the great drama which is soon to be enacted.

The Government of the Minority.

In view of the fact that if the people of all the States were permitted to vote, the Jacobins would be in an overwhelming and hopeless minority; their arrogant claim to the right to rule the nation is as astounding as it is shameless.—At the same time that they assert that the majority have the right to rule, they, backed by not more than two-fifths of the voters of the nation, force their iniquitous policy upon our statute books, and, regardless alike of decency and the guarantees of the Constitution, exclude ten States from all participation in the Government. This state of things is entirely incompatible with the continuance of our republican institutions. The precedents the Jacobins are now establishing, will inevitably react upon themselves, and in time the North will be made to feel the injustice it is now inflicting upon the South. The majority exhibited in the Northern States in the popular vote is altogether insignificant when compared to the aggregate vote; while, if the vote of the South were added to that opposed to the Radical party, that party would be contemptible in its weakness. But a series of untortunate circumstances have given them the power to exclude the Southern vote, and so long as that vote is excluded the reins of power are secured to them. Hence we see the desperate and ruinous policy they advocate thrust upon us. So long as they can continue this state of things they imagine that they are safe, and neither the Constitution nor laws, nor decency, nor respect for public opinion, will restrain them in the slightest degree. But a day of retribution will surely come, and then woe to the unscrupulous knaves who have so shamelessly disregarded the known will of the people, and proved so faithless to their oaths and duties.—Louisville Courier.

The two women surviving from the Evening Star remain in Charleston in a deplorable condition. They were five days in an open boat without food or water, and without a shred of clothing to protect them from the storm.

TO TEACHERS.

The Trustees of the Oxford Female Academy desire to make arrangements with a competent teacher, to take charge of that institution, at the close of the present year. It is pleasantly situated in the town of Oxford, in one of the most healthful sections of the State; it has been in successful operation for more than fifty years, and has perhaps educated more young ladies than any other similar institution in the State.

The trustees will make liberal terms with a competent teacher, who can come well recommended.

Applications will be received until the 10th. day of November next, when a choice will be made.

THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 23, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—W. Robert Andrews, Wholesale and Retail Grocer, No. 28 Fayetteville Street, spreads before the public one of the most inviting bills of fare ever presented in this city. His announcement falls short of the reality, for he has, undoubtedly, one of the very finest establishments of the kind in the South. What Andrews hasn't got, in his line, isn't worth having.

J. H. Bryan, of Clayton, offers for sale a valuable tract of land, with desirable improvements, near that place.

Williams & Haywood make known to the public that they have on hand one of the largest stocks of Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Glass, Perfumery, &c., ever brought to a Southern market. This is an old and staunch firm, and we are pleased to see that they present such inducements to the trade. Country dealers will do well to give them a call or send in their orders.

A HANDSOME HEARSE, if there can be anything handsome about a hearse, has just been manufactured by Mr. A. Fraps, who will carry on the business of undertaker in this city. It has been gotten up in the best style, at his Carriage Factory on Hargett St., and reflects great credit upon his taste and enterprise. It is, without exception, the most superior thing in its line we have ever had in Raleigh.

THE WESTERN mail-matter for Raleigh, due this morning, by some provoking blunder, instead of being delivered at the Post office of this city, was placed on the R. & G. train and carried down that road. We are thus without any election news from the Western part of the State. We hope to-morrow, however, to be able to give full returns from that quarter.

PERSONAL.—Gen. Roger A. Pryor, formerly of Virginia, but now residing in New York, arrived in the City by the R. & G. train yesterday evening, on a flying business trip, and returned by the train this morning on his way to Petersburg, where his family is at present staying.

HIS EXCELLENCY, the Governor, accompanied Dr. J. G. Ramsay, of the Board of Internal Improvement, K. P. Battle, Esq. Public Treasurer, Jno. D. Whitford, Esq., President of the Atlantic & N. C. R. R., Gen. W. R. Cox, President of the Chatham Railroad, and Dr. Thos. D. Hogg, left this city this morning, for the purpose of visiting and inspecting the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Benjamin Smith, Company H, 40th Regiment N. C. T., has not been heard from since the fall of Fort Fisher. His father, H. H. Smith, of Rockingham, Richmond County, North Carolina, would feel consoled to learn with certainty the fate of his son.

WESTERN N. C. R. R.—We are gratified to learn that, at a meeting of the Directors of this Road, at Salisbury, on Saturday last, it was determined to put the uncompleted part under contract at once and prosecute the work vigorously.

As heretofore noticed in these columns, the steamship Melita will sail from Norfolk to Liverpool direct about the middle of November.—Messrs. B. P. Williamson & Co., are the Agents in this City. We heartily commend this enterprise to the attention of our planters and others. We shall allude to the subject again,—having only space and leisure to direct public notice to the announcement to-day.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Oct. 22, 1866.—C T Barbee, Barclaysville; Thos. A P Horton, Gen. Roger A Pryor, New York; G Chapman, Marion, N. C.; B Ronold, B Crosby, P Gannon, Dan Castello's Circus; E F Whitehead, Goldsboro, P H Smith, Wilmington, J A Turrentine N. C. R. R.; G M Lea, Company's Shops; Rev. G A Russell, Summerville, R E Morecock, R. & G. R. R.; W H Grier, J A Wilson, Jas. McMurray, N. C. R. R.; John F Hawkins, Warrenton.

MESSRS. RICHARDSON & Co., of New York, will publish on the first of November Mr. W. Gilmore Simms' collection of "War Poetry of the South." It is a source of sincere congratulation that a Southern author of Mr. Simms' pre-eminent and acknowledged ability has prepared such a volume, for by it the literary tastes and talents of the Southern people will largely be measured. As soon as Mr. Simms' purpose to prepare this volume was announced, contributions poured in upon him from every Southern State—contributions, many of them, which would not have been called forth by any other author—and in the abundance of material he has been enabled to select the best in every case. We feel that this is no ordinary literary work;—it is a book for every Southern home—a book in which we cannot fail to take a personal and patriotic pride. Here will be found the lyric which times the march to battle; the slogan which inspires the charge; the rally which reinspires after reverse; and the elegy which recites the virtues of the beloved one. It is a grateful, though melancholy record, and although it tells of defeat and overthrow, and the forfeiture of confident hopes and of proud anticipations, it is still a monument of pride, as it tells of heroic struggle to the last, and of a sublime resignation even after the defeat of every hope. We are told that the book will not be for sale in the book-stores, but will be sold only by canvassing agents.

Hon. Wm. B. Reed, of Philadelphia, one of ex-President Davis' counsel, will deliver a lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association of Richmond on Thursday evening next.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Our Tuesday Morning Dispatches.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.

The Navy department has a report from the commanding officer of the steamer Newbern, dated Key West, Oct. 6. He picked up five men on a raft 75 miles east of Cape Canaveral, being the captain, cook, mate and two seamen of the British barque Ambrosa, which foundered in a gale on the 1st. They were the sole survivors of a crew of 15, and were nearly exhausted.

The President has appointed Joshua D. Geddings Assistant Treasurer of the U. S. at Charleston.

Baltimore Police Commissioners.

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 22.

The case of the Police Commissioners was taken up this morning by Gov. Swann. The complainants were represented by Messrs. Latrobe and Scheley, and the Commissioners by Messrs. Stockbridge, Alexander and Sterling. The latter read a reply, denying the jurisdiction of the Governor, but avowing their readiness to answer before a Court of competent jurisdiction.

The Governor decided that he had the jurisdiction. The counsel for the Commissioners then withdrew, saying their mission was at an end.

Fire at Oil City.

OIL CITY, PA., Oct. 22.

A fire occurred this morning destroying nearly a fourth of the oil-shipping portion of the City. Through the exertions of the Fire Department, the fires were prevented spreading to the City, or its complete destruction would have followed. Loss about $50,000.

Violent Storm at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.

A violent hurricane swept over the city on yesterday, destroying several buildings. A number of persons were injured.

Our Afternoon Dispatches.

The Police Commission Excitement.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.

The Police Commission excitement continues. Gov Swann has issued a proclamation warning the leaders of all illegal gatherings against the dignity of the State; that in the event of riot and bloodshed, growing out of these revolutionary proceedings, they will be held to strict accountability, and that the power of the State will be exhausted to bring them to punishment.

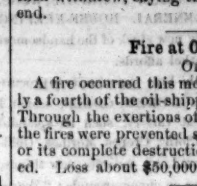
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF



Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too patent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all that it has ever done.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our American Almanac in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an alterative medicine to purify the blood will find AYER'S COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

Special Notices.

WHO CAN TELL

How much suffering comes from Diseased Livers?—Let parents read the following, and remember that these Pills are safe for the most delicate ladies:

Wm. Carraway, Esq., Wayne Co., N. C. (Sept. 1, 1862, says: "I have used the Southern Hepatic Pills in my family. My daughter was in very bad health from disorder of the liver for the space of three years, hardly having had a week without suffering. She took the Pills regularly and strictly according to the directions on the wrapper, and her health has been entirely restored by them. I have used them with great benefit among my servants on the plantation, and can recommend them as a safe and useful family medicine."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

EYE AND EAR,

treated, and every operation in Aural and Opthalmic Surgery, performed by

DOCTOR GARDNER.

Principal Office, 84 West Fortieth street, New York

For reference, Testimonials, &c., send for a CIRCULAR,

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.

"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.

The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

W. H. CROW,

General Agent,

For the State of North Carolina, Petersburg, Va., and surrounding Counties.

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

BEARD'S PATENT

LOCK-TIE FOR COTTON BALES, HAY, &c.,

Patented July 16th., 1861.

The greatest invention of the Age. It combines strength with rapidity of adjustment to Bales of any size, requiring only one-third of a minute to tie up a Bale of Cotton.

Is put on in less time and the Bale is held more snugly, firmly and securely than with any other Tie in existence.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMETTER,
Notary Public,
L. S. Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL.—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Gecrick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN

LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two Beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS.—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

PETER R. DAVIS,
Ex'r Dr. H. J. Davis.
Warrenton, N. C., Sept. 25-wtwdts

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE,

ON Monday, the 5th. day of November next, on the Premises at Oaks, Orange County, I will sell to the highest bidder the Farm and Residence of the late Doctor O. F. Long. There are about 160 acres of the Land. The House is nearly new, comfortable and commodious, with a good well and garden, and all necessary out-buildings; and all in good order. It is a good location for a Physician or Teacher, and in an excellent neighborhood.

The terms of sale will be one, two and three years credit, with interest after six months, with bond and good security, and title reserved till purchase money is paid. A good title will be made.

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unsurpassed facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS.

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market. McILWAINE & CO.
